ABP, Southampton

Associated British Ports (ABP) is a shipping port that handles 14 million tonnes of our goods a year that is located in Southampton.

The port handles around 820,000 vehicles a year as it is a vital element in international trade to the UK automotive industry. Because of this, it is the UK's number one vehicle handling port to help deliver vehicles to UK consumers. Handling so many vehicles requires a lot of storage to complete operation, so a multi-storey car park was built in order to achieve this. We helped Morgan Sindall deliver the project by specifying our vehicle restraint system on the project.

The system installed was our Brisafe Wire Rope Vehicle Restraint System that affixes to the structural columns of the car park to create the system. The ropes are tensioned to stop vehicles from leaving the car park deck upon impact. The corner fenders we installed also prevent damage to the vehicle upon impact and any scrapes that may occur will have reduced damage. This was ideal for the client as the vehicles that are being stored are newly manufactured and are of high value. To increase visibility to drivers, the wire rope system we installed was finished in a yellow, high visibility coating.
